

Edwin B. Pitts holds the Booth Deringer (aiming)

Edwin B. Pitts, Chief Clerk of the Judge Advocate General's Office, holds the gun used by John Wilkes Booth to assassinate President Lincoln. Photo taken on August 10, 1937.

Photo courtesy of the Library of Congress, LC-DIG-hec-23179.

