Edwin B. Pitts holds the Booth Deringer (seated)

Edwin B. Pitts, Chief Clerk of the Judge Advocate General’s Office, holds the gun used by John Wilkes Booth to assassinate President Lincoln while viewing other assassination artifacts in possession of the Wart Department. Photo taken on August 10, 1937.